14 PLUS HOUSE NEW DELHI
ROMI KHOSLA DESIGN STUDIO

The Plus house is conceived as a spacious house for an affluent young couple who entertain frequently. The ground floor spaces are for social entertainment and the first floor is the private living space for the occupants. The living and dining spaces are accessed by walking half a level down from the entrance at the ground level, resulting in a high ceiling for the entertainment areas. These spaces are flanked by sunken courts which allow spillover of the living spaces onto the landscaped areas.

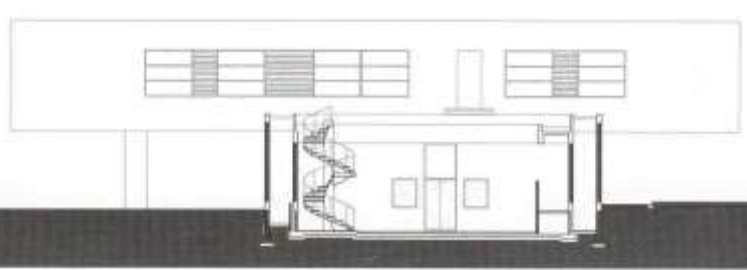

A private spa and entertainment building flanked by a swimming pool along its southern face is located to the east of the house.
